Vice-President Cheney Meets with House Conservatives Affirms Bush Administration's Desire to Work Closely Together

WASHINGTON—Today, Vice-President Richard Cheney came to Capitol Hill to meet with the Members of the House Republican Study Committee (RSC), a group of more than 60 House Conservatives. The Vice-President and RSC Members shared upbeat exchanges of ideas on a variety of current issues.

“This meeting demonstrates that the Vice-President is committed to actively engaging Congress on a number of key issues,” said RSC Chairman John Shadegg (R-AZ). “The Republican Study Committee looks forward to a dynamic working relationship with the Bush Administration.”
